

A free and confidential service for survivors of sexual violence

Moray Rape Crisis offers therapeutic support and advocacy to anyone aged 11 years and over, of any gender, who has experienced sexual violence at any time in their lives.

Sexual violence can include a range of experiences including rape, sexual assault, child sexual abuse, image-based abuse, sexual exploitation, sexual harassment, and stalking.

The support we offer includes:

Support for rape or sexual abuse that happened in the past

Support for recent rape or sexual abuse

Advocacy with the criminal justice process for those considering, or who have reported to the police

Information and support for survivors, friends, families and professionals

You can contact us directly by calling or emailing us. We also take referrals from other agencies.
